The LETTER BOX

Fitzgeralds Hope To Be Home For Holidays

(Ed. Note—The following letter from E. J. Fitzgerald, of Diamond Springs, who with Mrs. Fitzgerald have halted their world tour at Manila and will return home across the Pacific, was received at this office on Thursday morning, November 2.)

(Mr. Fitzgerald dated the letter at Manila, October 26 and it crossed the Pacific by "Clipper Mail" and was in our office one week after he had written it, in Manila.)

On nearing Shanghai, China, for a hundred and more miles out at sea we begin seeing the square sailed Chinese fishing junks. Fifty miles further inland the water of the sea is becoming quite a bright yellow. These muddy waters continue throughout the Yellow Sea, due to the large amount of soil brought down by the Yangtze River. We sail up this river for a distance of forty miles and then turn into the Whangpoo River for another thirteen miles before reaching Shanghai.

Ships are compelled to anchor out in mid-stream as there are no suitable landing places for the larger ships. The loading and unloading of freight is accomplished by means of a floating platform and numerous barges which ply to and fro between the city and the ship.

Shanghai, a city about the size of Chicago, is a busy trading center. Merchant ships of all nations, warships, and native boats of every description fairly swarm the waters. The greater number are row boats, propelled by means of an oar at the rear of the boat. The larger the boat the larger the oar, sometimes as long as twenty feet and handled by three or four men or women. If a very large boat, oars are used from various locations on the boat. Man power is cheap here.

Beggars or thieves in row-boats came toward the ship, hoping the passengers would throw them oranges, apples, pennies, or what-not. Each of these boats had its equipment a long bamboo pole with a steel hook on the end. With this pole, if permitted to come close to the vessel, they reach in through the portholes and hook clothing and other valuables belonging to the passengers. To keep these boats at a distance the ship's crew continually play the ship's water hose over the vessel's side.

One boat containing a Chinese woman and two half-grown children was especially persistent. The man with the nearest hose warned them and emphasized it with a gentle sprinkling. This brought forth angry shouts and I suppose choice Chinese oaths from the occupants but they continued their approach, whereupon they were given a heavy force of water. This dampened their wish for plunder and they withdrew completely soaked.

The Japanese authorities said we could enter Shanghai on our Japanese visa. The officials on board the President Taft told us we needed no visa but to take our passports with us. No one questioned our landing or stay in the city.

We landed at 3:30 o'clock and ran around until 9:00 o'clock that evening. In exchange, an American dollar was worth $13.30 in Chinese money. We saw many wonderful stores, wonderful goods at unbelievable cheap prices, and cheap labor in every direction. A good tailor made linen suit of clothes such as men wear in the tropics could be had for $1.50 in our money. Silk shirts and pajamas for men twenty-five to fifty cents. In talking with one of the clerks, a girl who was a high school graduate and proficient in speaking English, Spanish and Chinese stated that she received about $1.70 per week in our money. She said that some girls received only about sixty cents per month.

The next day, at evening sailing down the East China Sea, we saw the most gorgeous sunset over the China hills that one could imagine.

We disembarked in the Hong-kong region about 10:30 o'clock the following morning at Kowloon and crossed on a ferry to Victoria, the main city. A few of the streets are quite level but the greater number run up the steep hillside by means of stone steps. Our U. S. dollar here was worth about four Hongkong dollars. Goods were considerably higher here than they were in Shanghai.

Everywhere people had goods of some kind that they wanted to sell, not only in the thickly congested stores, but along the sidewalks and in every inconceivable nook and corner. Representatives from various stores beset us on every side asking us to go to their stores.

Russia "Concerned" At Report Finland Is "Preparing For War"

Soviet Russia charged Finland with plotting a new war today and Nazis threatened an intense U-Boat campaign against ships expected to carry many millions of dollars worth of American war materials to Great Britain and France.

Opening the "final" phase of negotiations between Russia and Finland, the Communist party's official newspaper Pravda charged that the action of Finland (population 3,334,000; area 147,811 square miles) toward the Soviet Union (population 170,000,000; area 8,241,000 square miles) was a betrayal.

Dads Attend P. T. A. Meet

November 30th Date For Next Conference On Child Health

Thursday night was "Fathers' Night" for the Placerville P. T. A. at their meeting held at 8 o'clock in the evening at the grammar school auditorium. An unusually large number of "dads" attended the meeting.

One of the highlights of the meeting was announcement that the "well baby" clinic is being abandoned and in its stead will be held a "Child Health Conference" devoted chiefly to considering the health problems of children of pre-school age. The conference will be conducted by one of Placerville's physicians and the first conference will be held on November 30th.

Mrs. Wilder Immel, president of the unit, opened the meeting by introducing the fifth grade teachers, Miss Louisiana Schnell and Miss Florence Luce, and called upon the parents of fifth grade pupils to rise.

Principal J. H. Palmer spoke briefly on "Safety in the School" and there were four numbers by the school orchestra, directed by Miss Laura Ball and a demonstration in first aid by the Boy Scouts of Troop 57.

At the close of the meeting there was a social hour at which the mothers of the fifth grade pupils were hostesses. In keeping with the season, refreshments were cider and doughnuts.

Snow Removal Reported On 3 Sierra Passes

SACRAMENTO, (U)—Due to mild weather, three passes through the Sierra Nevada previously closed by snow have been reopened to traffic, the state division of highways announced today.

The reopened routes are Sonora, Ebbetts and Tioga passes. Carson Pass remains closed because of icy conditions.

Workmen made quick work of the new sidewalk in front of the Albert Simon store and the improvement will be much appreciated by the pedestrian public.

SCRIP HERALDS HARD TIMES

C. C. Young Urges "No" Vote On Discredited Ham And Eggs Proposal

SAN FRANCISCO — Hard times such as no state has ever experienced face Californians unless every voter gets all his neighbors out on November 7 to vote against 30-Thursday Proposition 1. C. C. Young, former governor of California, thus sized up the state's present political predicament in a statement issued at Berkeley today. Ex-Governor Young declared:

"The morning of November 8th will see our state either headed for a year of the economic recovery, better business, increased employment, and comparative good times, which is beginning to be felt all over the Nation; or, on the other hand, for at least two years of stagnation, business failure, unemployment and hard times such as no state has ever before experienced."

"The good times may be ours simply by voting and getting all our neighbors to vote NO on the now thoroughly discredited 'Ham and Eggs' Proposition No. 1. The hard times will be ours if carelessness or indifference or stormy weather keeps any of us or our neighbors away from the polls."

"Clever, visionary, and hitherto unknown promoters have so played upon the blind credulity of our elder citizens that they have rallied an army of more than a million voters, very few of whom will even listen to opposing arguments and practically all of whom are only waiting for election day."

"There is just one hope—that, during the few days between now and next Tuesday, the citizens of California may so fully awake to their peril that not one indifferent or careless voter fails to do his part."

NYA PART-TIME JOBS OPEN FOR 3,500 IN CALIFORNIA

More than 3,500 part-time jobs for young people between the ages of 18 and 25, who wish to "earn while they learn," are open immediately throughout California in the program of the National Youth Administration, according to State Administrator Robert W. Burns.

Work pay averages from $18.00 to $21.00 a month for 60 hours of work experience, plus an opportunity for specialized experience which will lead to jobs in private industry. Mr. Burns states:

It is no longer necessary for a youth or his family to be on relief to be eligible for employment under the NYA. The NYA is now certifying its own applicants and provides work in a wide variety of types of employment for deserving young persons from families of inadequate income.

Any young person interested in NYA employment may apply by writing or calling on Neal D. Smith, Room 3, County Court House, Sacramento, California.

Capt. And Mrs. Bell Return To Kelsey

Capt. and Mrs. W. F. Bell, of Kelsey, who left last June 1st on a business trip to England, were in Placerville Friday afternoon en route to their home at Kelsey. They halted briefly to say "hello" to friends in the county seat before continuing to the north side.

Alex Ilohn is home from a week spent at San Francisco.

Thanksgiving Dates Puzzle

States Evenly Divided And Two Will Observe Holiday Twice

By UNITED PRESS

The states were evenly divided today on whether to observe Thanksgiving on Nov. 23, as proclaimed by President Roosevelt, or on the traditional date of the last Thursday of the month.

The governors of 23 states, reporting in a survey, said they would support the President. Twenty three others said they would hold to tradition and proclaim Nov. 30 as the Thanksgiving date. The governors of Texas and Colorado said their states would observe both dates.

President Roosevelt asked the nation in a formal proclamation to set aside Nov. 23 to give thanks to the ruler of the universe for the strength which he has vouchsafed us to carry on our daily labors and for the peace this nation enjoys "in a world of turmoil."

He made no mention of his previously announced reason for advancing the observance one week—the request of businessmen to lengthen the period between Thanksgiving and Christmas as a buying stimulant. He also had said he will advance the date of the observance another week next year.

The survey showed the states divided as follows:

Nov. 23 — California, Delaware, Georgia, Illinois, Indiana, Louisiana, Maryland, Michigan, Missouri, Mississippi, Montana, New Jersey, New York, North Dakota, Ohio, Oregon, Pennsylvania, South Carolina, Utah, Virginia, Washington, West Virginia and Wyoming.

Nov. 30—Alabama, Arizona, Arkansas, Florida, Idaho, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Minnesota, Nebraska, Nevada, New Mexico, North Carolina, Oklahoma, South Dakota, Tennessee, Wisconsin and the six New England states—Connecticut, Maine, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Rhode Island, and Vermont—where Thanksgiving originated more than 300 years ago.

Cougars Seek Grid Title

Mother Lode Honors Hang On Result Of Game With Sonora

MOTHER LOLE LEAGUE STANDINGS

Cougars	1	0	1
Jackson	0	1	1
Sutter Creek	0	2	0

El Dorado County high school Cougars will be accompanied by a delegation of supporters as they go to Sonora tomorrow afternoon for a game which will decide the Mother Lode CIF league championship.

The strong Sonora high school outfit is undefeated in league play this year and the Cougars, with one victory, one tie and no defeats, will be able to claim the title if they can trim the Sonora eleven.

While the Cougars are admitted to the "underdogs" in pre-game dope, their 7 to 6 win over Sutter Creek last week gives them hope that they may be able to battle Sonora successfully, for Sonora's victory over Sutter Creek was only by a one touchdown margin, 7 to 0.

The circumstance that the championship game is on Sonora's own field may prove a further hurdle for the Cougars.

REGIONAL FARM BUREAU MEETING ON FRIDAY AT MARYSVILLE

County Chairman James A. Irving, with Max Bollman, John Arthur and Farm Advisor Ivan Lilley left early Friday for Marysville to attend the regular regional meeting of the state Farm Bureau.

Sessions were to open at ten o'clock in the morning and continue until late in the afternoon with the usual luncheon at noon.

The group made plans to stop en route home at Penobscot to attend the regular meeting of the North Side center for November, at which the discussion part of the program will be devoted to a review and consideration of Propositions Two, Three, Four and Five on the Tuesday special election ballot.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Grainger arrived Thursday from Westwood for a visit with friends. The Graingers were El Dorado County residents about four years ago, when Mr. Grainger was engaged in trucking in the logging industry.

Aquabelle Hurt

Eleanor La Manna (above), chosen to fill the swim-suit of Eleanor Manna when latter weds Billy Rose and retires as star of the Aquacade at the World's Fair, was sent to the hospital suffering from a back injury. It is said a group of clowning chorus boys knocked her off her feet, all five falling on her.

CENTER MET ON THURSDAY

South Side Institutes Plans For Attending Annual County Meeting

The November series of Farm Center meetings in the county was instituted Thursday night by the South Side Center, which held a lively program and launched plans for sharing in the annual county Farm Bureau meeting, which will be held December 2 at Coloma Community Hall.

This matter was laid before the center by Roy Marks, secretary of the County Farm Bureau directorate, and a member of the committee on arrangements for the annual meeting.

Other doings of the evening included a talk by Woodbridge Metcalfe, extension forester, who spoke concerning the advantages of farm wood plots and who also led in the community singing.

E. W. Zueger, of Placerville, spoke in behalf of the Red Cross with particular reference to first aid achievement.

A particularly interesting entertainment feature was a demonstration by the 4-H Clothing club, which is meeting regularly with Mrs. Clara Rank and Mrs. Merl Cannon as the leaders. The club members who took part in the demonstration are Harriett and Frances Heuer; Fern Rank, Dorothy Kemp Van Ee and Patricia Bunn.

Motion pictures and refreshments concluded the evening.

ALEXANDER BAUMHOFF RITES HELD ON THURSDAY

The funeral services for Alexander Baumhoff, 82, who died at his home on Cedar Ravine Street on Tuesday, were held Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Federated Church. Interment was at Union cemetery.

A large number of friends of the family joined with them in the last rites, which were conducted by the Rev. Harold Morehouse, pastor of the church. Mrs. Grace Steen was the vocal soloist. Miss Maxine Milroy was at the organ. A profusion of beautiful floral pieces attested the esteem and respect of the community for the deceased.

Mr. Baumhoff, native of Missouri, had made his home in El Dorado County for almost fifty years, engaging in ranching, lumbering and the resort business prior to his retirement several years ago.

War Veterans To Attend Church In Body

Sunday will be observed as "Armistice Sunday" at the Federated Church and a number of war veterans are making plans to attend the Sunday morning church service in a body. A section of seats in the church auditorium will be reserved for the group.

A. L. Richardson, Sr., was a caller in the county seat on Friday from Camp Richardson, Lake Tahoe.

Daryl Jenkinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jenkinson and a recent graduate of the University of California law school, was one of approximately 800 law graduates who took the state bar examination, concluded on Wednesday. Mr. Jenkinson is spending a vacation here with his parents and wondering how much the examining board will find he knows about Blackstone.

NAZIS DOUBT, BRITAIN JUBILANT AT ARMS EMBARGO REPEAL

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON, (U)—Congress sent the neutrality bill to the White House late today after the Senate and the House had both approved the conference report within a few minutes after it was submitted by the conference committees.

WASHINGTON (U)—President Roosevelt said today that the neutrality bill on which congress is about to complete action restores the historic position of United States neutrality.

Authorizing direct quotation of his remarks at a press conference, Mr. Roosevelt said:

"I am very glad that the bill has restored the historic position of neutrality of the United States."

The President expressed gratification at the 62 vote margin by which the house yesterday approved repeal of the embargo on arms.

Mr. Roosevelt's comment was made as six senators and five representatives met in the somber, thick-carpeted senate foreign relations committee room to put into final form the administration's cash-and-carry bill permitting export of arms and munitions.

Anticipating quick completion of congressional action on the measure, Mr. Roosevelt said enactment of the bill will be followed quickly by his issuance of proclamations required by the new measure.

Mr. Roosevelt said the exact nature of the proclamations will not be determined until after he explores the question.

By indicating that he hopes to leave late Saturday or early Sunday for his Hyde Park, N. Y., home, the President gave strong intimation that he expects to issue the proclamations before Sunday.

Mr. Roosevelt said that he hopes congressional leaders will remain in Washington after the special session adjourns so that they will be on hand to consider and advise him on important foreign affairs. The special session is expected to adjourn not later than Saturday.

NAZIS CRITICAL

BERLIN, (U)—Nazis, bitterly critical of United States embargo repeal action, hinted darkly today at a merciless submarine campaign to stop an expected flow of war planes, guns and munitions to the allies.

Unofficial Nazi quarters charged that repeal of the embargo would mean outright American support of the allies.

Armless Mother Spurns Help

Uses Feet To Launder, Sew And Cook For Self And Family Of Nine

SAFFORD, Ariz., (U)—Mrs. Ruby Mathews who was born 37 years ago without arms, refused today to consider offers for adoption of her eighth child to which she gave birth, without medical aid, on a lonely country road a week ago.

"It's awfully nice of these people," the armless mother said, nodding her head in the direction of a pile of telegrams from persons asking to adopt the week-old baby girl, "but it won't take much to feed the baby. Only an ounce a day maybe for a long time. It won't cost much."

Hospital attendants urged her to accept one of the adoption offers to "make it easier for you." But Mrs. Mathews doesn't believe she has it much harder than any other mother.

"I don't know," she said, "I manage to get along. You can do an awful lot with your feet. I can thread a needle, sew, launder and iron, take care of the children and feed myself."

Her husband, Jim Mathews, has found a job on a nearby ranch and so the armless mother, for the first time in years, will live in a real house when she leaves the hospital.

The corporations indicted were the Will Rogers Memorial Hospital, Inc., and the South Park Credit Co., Inc., both of Chicago.

QUALITY IN MEN'S APPAREL SINCE 1889

"THE WIZARD OF OZ," which comes to the Empire Sunday for two days, has Bert Lahr, Frank Morgan, Judy Garland and Ray Bolger in principal roles.

"WIZARD OF OZ" COMES TO EMPIRE SCREEN FOR SUNDAY AND MONDAY; "BLONDIE" SATURDAY; "HOTEL FOR WOMEN" CLOSING TONIGHT

Oldsters can turn back the pages and the youngsters—lucky tots—get an old story in the modern way in "The Wizard of Oz," which comes to the Empire theater Sunday for a two-day showing. Judy Garland is the "Dorothy" of the story.

Turning back the pages on the current week, the Saturday feature at the Empire is another of the "Blondie" series in which the Bumstead family holds the boards again in "Blondie Takes A Vacation"—and at what price?

Turning back the pages again to the current bill, it's "Hotel for Women" and the picture closes tonight. Elsa Maxwell of nation-wide "party" fame has the featured role, and what a party!

"The Wizard of Oz" guarantees one hundred two minutes of multi-colored splendor.

A foreword, coming right after the roar of Leo-the-trademark, dedicates the picture to "the young in heart," and that's rather whom it is for. Curiously here and there the refurbished tale is flecked with a tender sort of allegorical sophistication, but there is not enough of that to make much difference.

The endeavor is whimsy with a whim, a vast ornate plunge through the breach of prejudice opened by "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs," to which this has aspects somewhat akin, not perhaps without intent or design.

Outstandingly interesting to many the oldest will be a comparison of the media, with their time-tinted memoirs of the stage hit those three and a half decades ago and the capacities of today's cinema in picture and sound. The picture spread across the screen is an old master in blithe new colors, gayner than the day it first flowered.

Miss Judy Garland, with whom M-G-M has been making valiant effort these several years, has done pleasingly well with much the most demanding part she has had. She comes through neatly alongside such older and time-seasoned, able performers as Frank Morgan, Ray Bolger, Bert Lahr and Jack Haley. It might be mentioned that Miss Garland in the role of "Dorothy" is effectively surrounded and considerably more than knee deep in Singer nudges in some of the most fantastically imposing of the swirling color-and-song numbers.

SCOUTING

Troop 67 Notes

Members of Troop 67: We have been asked by the Committee on program for Armistice Day to assist in the Parade at 10:30 a. m. November 11, 1939. Watch papers for full details.

Those Scouts who are on the High School Band will be excused to be with that band and those Scouts who are not in the band are expected to meet at the Legion Hall at 10:15 a. m. sharp on November 11. Make it a point to be there! The American Legion are our sponsors and we want to show them that we WILL help. There is no excuse for not being there.

In the afternoon the Scouts are to help with the Flag Ceremony at Bennett Memorial Park at 2:15 p. m., and our Troop is honored to be the troop to assist in the Flag Ceremony and we must show that we will all be there except those on the High School Band. Be there at 2 p. m. sharp so that we can be assigned the proper positions. AND after the football game we are to assist in the Flag Ceremony to take down the flag and march away. These are part of our civic duties and shows no big effort but that we are patriotic and should help do our part with the American Legion who have done a great duty to our Country.

On November 3, 4, and 5 there will be an overnight camp at Weber Creek under leaders of Troops 57, 86 and 67 and we have to qualify for Troop Index for 400 points so we must expect a large turnout for this event. The various Scoutmasters will assist in giving pointers on the various tests and there will be competition tests besides for troop honors. So let's all go and have a good time!

There will be a Troop party at the Scout Lodge on November 10th, at 7:30 p. m. so bring in your ideas at next Troop meeting and tell our committee on program what you want. All ideas must be well founded and put to a vote of the Troop before they are accepted. This is your party and you want to help make it a success.

We need ten new recruits and it will help us all if those Scouts who have been Tenderfoot so long to advance to Second Class and the Second Class Scouts to First Class. Board of Review on November 30, Court of Honor on December 7, with Troops 57 and 86 so why not make it a big Court of Honor and advance one notch each. We can do it!

Scoutingly Yours,
CAROL G. LAND,
Scoutmaster.

Don't try to tell me that the kids of today don't like Hallowe'en. Its attraction was so strong that many a boy, except that perennial, Walter Green, and Company, came to our meeting. Sooooo, the meeting was adjourned, making our endorsement of Hallowe'en unanimous.

We're giving a repeat performance, if all goes well, of the First Aid Demonstration we gave for the Junior Red Cross. And what could be more suitable, with all the mass-sacreling going on in Europe, where they concentrate on killing; than a demonstration of how to save lives over here?—Bill Dillinger.

What One Merchant Says:

"Although some business people believe it poor policy to take an open stand on the 'Ham & Eggs 30-Thursdays' issue, I believe it good business to put myself on record as definitely opposed to the measure because:

1. The Warrants Would Not Be Lawful Money of the United States.
2. The Wholesalers, with Whom I Deal, Would Not Accept Warrants.
3. The Banks Would Not Accept Warrants.
4. I am Convinced That It is Good Citizenship To Honestly Declare Myself on Any Issue so Vital to the Best Interests of the People of this State."

establishments to see what wonderful bargains they had to offer.

Before noon it began to rain heavily from low-hanging clouds and continued throughout the entire afternoon. This was a disappointment to us as we intended to make a trip up to the top of the "Peak," a hill in Hongkong rising abruptly from the harbor to a height of 1825 feet and commanding a wonderful view of the cities, harbor, shipping, islands with their tiny coves and bays where pirates used to hide, and on a clear day, see Canton ninety miles away.

In midafternoon, we beheld the most elaborately paid funeral parade imaginable. Spectators estimated it between three-fourths of a mile and a mile long and staged in a heavy down-pour of rain. It wasn't just a string of friends in automobiles like our funerals as each unit consisted of a costly float of some kind built up entirely of flowers of different colors arranged in designs on fields often as large as twelve feet or so square. There were brass bands, Chinese bands, drum corps, eight bands in all.

A rich Chinaman's wife had died and he was showing off his affection and his wealth. One of the floats carried a life-size bust picture of the deceased surrounded by flowers in banks fifteen feet high. Many floats were on automobiles, on clusters of bicycles, sedan chairs, carried by uniformed girls, uniformed men or boys and rickshaws. Often the flowers were built in the form of various animals such as dogs, deer or elephants. A profusely decorated float of flowers bearing the casket of the deceased hoisted high in the air and carried by forty men brought up the rear of the procession. A motion picture of this funeral parade would be worth more than the thousands of dollars that this funeral cost.

Thirty-two days after leaving San Francisco, eight days of which was spent in Japan, we landed in Manila. We found both our daughter and her husband so sick with the dengue fever that they were unable to meet us at the boat. Our daughter was convalescing but our son-in-law's fever continued unabated, so it seemed advisable to remove him to a sanatorium. Here, although given the best medical and nursing care obtainable, complications set in and he died during the night of October 8, three days after our arrival here.

We are busy now settling up the estate and arranging for our return to California, back across the Pacific. Our daughter will accompany us home. Our arrival should not be delayed beyond the holiday season.

Signed,
E. J. FITZGERALD

For even assuming that 'Ham and Eggs' has not gained a single new convert over last year, and assuming that this special election vote reaches not only 80 per cent but even the astounding figure of 90 per cent of last year's general election vote, this proposed blight upon California would be defeated by only a thousand votes.

"I fear that these sound like the words of an alarmist, but I submit that there is every reason to be alarmed. The time for argument has passed. The time for action has come. Impress upon every friend and neighbor the vital necessity of voting next Tuesday, and ask them whether California should follow the lead of every competent economist and thoughtful citizen from President Roosevelt down, or the dictates of self-seeking promoters, who with supreme affrontery actually name themselves as the future rulers of California and its destiny, above and beyond any check by governors, legislatures, or courts."

Arms Embargo Reaction

lifting of the United States arms embargo will place an "arsenal of unlimited resources" at disposal of Great Britain and France, Minister of Supply Edward Leslie Burgin today said.

When the embargo is lifted as expected, Great Britain will review her own arms production and then fill any shortages from the United States, Burgin said in a speech that gave the first official reaction to the American embargo repeal legislation.

He did not mention the big aircraft purchases expected to be made in America, running into many hundreds of planes, because the ministry of supply is not responsible for plane productions. Some of the larger types of planes may be flown across the Atlantic.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICE

First Church of Christ, Scientist, Placerville, Bedford Avenue at Union Street.
Services, 11 a. m. Sunday School 9:30 a. m. Wednesday evening. Testimonial Meeting 8 p. m.
The reading room at the church building is open Tuesday and Friday from 2 o'clock until 4 o'clock.

In all Christian Science churches, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass., a Lesson-Sermon was read Sunday, October 29, on the subject "Everlasting Punishment."

The Golden Text was: "Cast away from you all your transgressions, whereby ye have transgressed; and make you a new heart and a new spirit; for why will ye die, O house of Israel?" (Ezekiel 18:31). Bible selections included the following passages from Proverbs 15:24, 29: "The way of life is above to the wise, that he may depart from hell beneath. The Lord is far from the wicked; but he heareth the prayer of the righteous."

A passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, was also included, which reads as follows: "Sin will receive its full penalty, both for what it is and for what it does. Justice marks the sinner, and teaches mortals not to remove the waymarks of God. To envy's own hell, justice consigns the lie which, to advance itself, breaks God's commandments" (p. 542).
